Bleed - ing hearts you bloom in May, Winds are still no branch - es sway. The day was bright and all was light, But soon you droop and fade a - way.

had, for joy they thirst, But these same hearts have been mend - ed, Sor - row and joy they've blend - ed. The night it was light and then it was dark, Gray clouds meet, they break and part, But these same clouds, they have no heart, As you and I a bleed - ing heart. heart.
